INTERNATIONAL OLYMPIAD ACADEMY

Our education system has, for long, focused only on the core concepts that science and mathematics can offer. This has spurred the need for an external platform that provides the opportunity to apply these concepts and build a deep understanding of the core concepts learned in school. Olympiads are competitive examinations conducted nationally and internationally and have proved to be such platforms that allow students to test their mettle in different subjects. These exams focus on the application of concepts learned in the classroom. The exams are designed in such a way that the students are forced to apply multiple concepts simultaneously to reach the answers. This not only sharpens their skill, it also builds in them the deep appreciation of the subject.

We, at International Olympiad Academy, recognize the need for such periodic tests that pushes the students out of their comfort zone and helps them build their logical reasoning and analytical abilities. Our Olympiads, pits students from all across the globe to compete against their peer groups. We aim to foster a healthy environment which is competitive yet enriching.

We also provide mentoring programs that guide the students throughout the process of preparing for such exams. Our mentors are highly qualified professionals who have been a part of the education system for over twenty years. Their extensive experience allows them to assess the potential of students quickly and customize the program to mentor students with different capabilities in a manner that suits each student exclusively. Currently in collaboration with HIPPO International Language Competition, Singapore and Asian School Math Olympiad (SASMO) and Mathematical Kangaroo (also known as International Mathematical Kangaroo, or Kangourou sans frontières in French), IOA aims to identify young geniuses and bring out the best in them.

ABOUT MATHEMATICAL KANGAROO

Mathematical Kangaroo (also known as International Mathematical Kangaroo, or Kangourou sans frontieres in French) is an international mathematical competition held across 84 countries in the world. There are twelve levels of participation, ranging from grade 1 to grade 12. The competition is held annually on the third Thursday of March. The key competence tested by Mathematical Kangaroo is not just pure knowledge of formulas, but the logical combination of concepts.

The competition was established in 1991 by Andre Deledicq, a Professor of Mathematics at the University of Paris, and Jean-Pierre Boudine, Professor of Mathematics at Marseille. The idea comes from the Australian Mathematics Competition, initiated in 1978 by Peter O'Halloran. It is based on multiple-choice questions (MCQs), which were rarely used in France at that time. For this competition, Jean-Pierre Boudine and André Deledicq were awarded the 1994 d'Alembert prize of the Mathematical Society of France.

The competition has now spread around the world. Students from Sweden first took part in 1999. By 2011, 860,000 students from 9,000 schools took part in Germany, having grown rapidly from 549,000 in 2007. In 2014, the competition was hosted in Latin America. In 2017, the Bulgarian association held a week-long Kangaroo summer camp. In Canada, math contest clubs for elementary school children teach "questions typical of the Math Kangaroo contest", starting with those with a visual component and helping to develop logic and spatial reasoning. Students in Pakistan took part for the first time in 2005, the numbers increasing each year since. In 2009, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette noted that the competition was very popular in Europe and was "finding its way into the United States". Denmark first participated in 2015. India is going to organize Mathematical Kangaroo from 2019 under the banner of International Olympiad Academy.

ABOUT MATH OLYMPIAD (SASMO)

SINGAPORE AND ASIAN SCHOOLS MATH OLYMPIAD

You may have heard of the Cheryl's birthday puzzle, which went viral on 11 Apr 2015, not only in Singapore and neighbouring countries, but as far as the US, Europe and even New Zealand. This puzzle appeared as one of the most difficult questions in the Singapore and Asian Schools Math Olympiad (SASMO)- 2015 Contest held on 8 Apr 2015.

SASMO is an international mathematics competition that is organized by Singapore International Math Contests Centre (SIMCC) and supported by non-profit foundations Singapore Scholastic Trust and SASMO Advisory Council (SAC). SASMO is devoted and dedicated to bringing a love for Mathematics to students. Unlike most Math Olympiad Competitions, SASMO caters not only to students in the top 5% but to the top 40% instead. It aims to arouse students' interest and enthusiasm for mathematical problem solving, develop mathematical intuition, reasoning and logical thinking, as well as creative and critical thinking. In addition, this can help improve the students' math grades because they can apply problem-solving strategies learnt during the training to their daily school mathematics.

SASMO is one of the largest Math Olympiads in the Asian regions with over 20,000 participants from 19 countries in 2017. SASMO has now expanded the Olympiads by providing an international recognized competitive platform for students from Year 2 to 11 (or Standard 2 to Form 5).

SASMO for Primary and Secondary Schools is held annually in April in three languages: Bahasa, English and Chinese. Every level has a different question paper.

Top scorers will receive Gold (8%), Silver (12%) and Bronze Awards (20%). All Gold, Silver and Bronze award winners in SASMO will be invited to join SIMOC (Singapore International Mathematics Olympiad Challenge) and AIMO (Asia International Mathematical Olympiad). Gold and Silver award winners will be invited to join IJMO (International Junior Math Olympiad). Each participant shall be awarded a Certificate of Participation.
